

CARRANZA SOLDIERS CONCENTRATING NEAR CHIHUAHUA; REPORT

NO REASON FOR GATHERING OF SOLDIERS THERE IS GIVEN BY CONSUL.

MAY BE PART OF BIG PLAN

Funston Thinks Movement Is In Connection With Co-Operative Scheme.

(Associated Press)

Carranza troops are concentrating in the vicinity of Chihuahua, according to a report from Consul Letcher. The reason is unexplained, but Gen. Funston's headquarters assume that it is part of the plan of co-operation in the pursuit of Villa, who, a majority of the reports indicate, is traveling south beyond Chihuahua.

Report Was Garbled.

The exact position of the American forces is unknown, a report from Gen. Pershing, which reached Columbus, being so garbled that it was necessary to have it repeated. It is believed the U. S. advance force has reached Satevo.

Supply Situation.

The seriousness of the supply situation is indicated by soldiers returning from the front, who tell of the expedients adopted by the American troops to repair worn out garments, especially shoes.

Strike Terror In Hearts.

Wholesale looting and murder of unfortunates in the peon district near Torreon, where some of Villa's adherents are operating, is reported.

The marksmanship of the American soldiers has done more than any other development to strike terror in the hearts of the Villistas, reports say.

Engagement April 4.

Another engagement between the Carranza troops and Villa bandits occurred April 4 at Cieneguilla, ten bandits being killed, according to information received by the war department at Washington.

Cavalry Near Villa.

The commander of the Carranza troops at Chihuahua reports that Villa was at Cieneguilla, ten miles south of Satevo, April 4. American cavalry is pushing forward to and behind Satevo.

Washington, April 7.—Secretary Lansing flatly denies that there is any ground whatever for the reports that the withdrawal of American troops from Mexico is being contemplated.

El Paso, April 7.—General Obregon, minister of war for Mexico, is confident Villa has been completely crushed in Chihuahua campaign and that as a result of this fact the work of the United States army punitive expedition in Mexico has been virtually completed.

In a dispatch to Consul Garcia, dated at Queretaro, he advises that according to information from Chihuahua, Villa has been defeated in the several engagements with the Constitutional forces. He states that the crushing defeats have all been confirmed. The telegram reads in addition that "General Gutierrez, chief of the forces in Chihuahua state has assured me that it will not be long before Villa is captured." The Constitutional authorities have, as authoritatively stated, deferred any action relative to the use of the railroad by the American troops pending the outcome of the Villa campaign and the fact that his men are routed and he himself is wounded, is construed by the constitutionalists as the first step in acknowledgement from the American troops that their mission in Mexico has been performed.

Wants U. S. to Withdraw.

El Paso, Tex., April 7.—Consul Garcia, chief Carranza official along the border, declared himself in favor of the United States troops withdrawing from Mexico. There is no doubt here that Garcia's views reflect those of the Carranza government.

Garcia stated that further advance by the American troops in Mexico might precipitate trouble.

"The American expedition has achieved its purpose of breaking Villa's strength and scattering his followers," said Garcia. "It is not necessary to capture Villa to make the expedition a success. It would be useless to have thousands of men pursue him, as it may take an indefinite time to capture him. Villa can be captured more easily by offering a big reward. There is no reason in my opinion for the American army pursuing the campaign further."

Power Completely Broken.

"The withdrawal of the United States forces would not mean that Villa would gain prestige in Mexico. His power has been completely broken and the Mexican people re-

DIXON GETS WIDE ADVERTISING

Saturday Evening Post Ad Shows K. A. O. Furniture Truck

Dixon is getting a neat little bit of world wide advertising from the Curtis Publishing Co. this week in the Ford Co. automobile truck advertisement in the Saturday Evening Post. Among several pictures in the five page advertisement is a view of the truck of Keyes Ahrens Ogden Furniture Co. of this city, the lettering on the truck of firm name and the tower standing out in bold relief.

INSPECTORS CHECK UP DIXON REPORTS

MEMBERS OF STATE FIRE MAR-SHAL'S OFFICE HERE TO SEE IF WORK IS DONE.

CONDITIONS GREATLY IMPROVED

Five men from the state fire marshal's office spent Thursday here checking over the defects and recommendations made to alterations of the fire hazards found at the inspection made five weeks ago. Those in the party were Frank Morgaridge, assistant state fire marshal; L. Dunn of the Springfield district; John Greeley, Chicago district; Edward Holland of Bloomington and Robert Harper of Rock Falls. They found that the corrections had been made or steps taken. In some cases of defective wiring all the changes had not been made, and the owners of the buildings were allowed an extension of time. At the court house the doors have not been changed on the south side of the building to comply with the law requiring that doors on public buildings swing outward and the condition has been referred back to the fire marshal's office.

BENEFIT CONCERT.

The Boys' Hikers club of the Baptist church has secured the Canadian Jubilee Singers to give a concert at the Baptist church April 12 under the auspices of the club, the resulting funds to be used to defray the expense of the club's summer camp, to which the boys look forward so much. The Canadian Jubilee Singers are appearing in Sterling and a number of nearby towns and come highly recommended. They will give a program of plantation melodies, sacred and secular songs, and readings.

Elze Villa is defeated. But further progress of the American forces into interior Mexico might precipitate trouble."

Bandits Kill Fifty.

Laredo, Tex., April 7.—Reports say that fifty persons, including women and children, were murdered by bandits between Torreon and Zacatecas on March 28, when the marauders wrecked the train on which they were riding, according to word brought here by some of the passengers.

Says Villa's Capture Is Near.

Mexico City, April 7.—General Gutierrez reported to the war department that the capture of Francisco Villa within a very short time was certain. He said constitutional forces were again reported to have located Villa and surrounded him. It is also reported that a combined force of constitutional troops from the states of Jalisco, Aguascalientes and Zacatecas is closing in on General Bracamonte, who, with a large force of Villa cavalry, has been located near Juchipila, in southern Zacatecas.

Apache Indians to Trail Villa.

El Paso, April 7.—With eagle feathers in their hats and pistols in their belt scabbards twenty Apache Indians of the White Mountain Apache Indian reservation in Arizona left El Paso for the military base at Nampiquipa where they will be placed on trail of Villa to aid the United States punitive expedition with their scouting powers. The twenty Indians were in charge of Captain O. P. M. Hazard, who is in command of the troops of the tenth cavalry at Fort Apache. Before setting out from Holbrook, Arizona, on Tuesday morning they passed the night in an Indian war dance.

In the detachment are five regular army scouts. The remainder have served the United States in other campaigns and 15 of the crew were engaged in the trailing of Chief Geronimo after he entered Mexico. The chief dignitary of the group is Yat-Sun-Day, who is a full chief and one of the fourteen Indians detailed to trail Geronimo and one of the few still living who trailed that chief.

Another Indian celebrity is "Charley," whose number is G 20, who was one of the two Indians who eventually landed Geronimo.

DIXON CONTRACTORS GET PAVEMENT WORK

DUFFY & HUBBARD AND RINK &
SCHNELL SUCCESSFUL BID-DERS FOR PAVEMENT.

TOTAL COST OF WORK $80,985

Duffy & Hubbard to Build West and

NEW AIRSHIP BROKE FROM ITS MOORINGS

$50,000 DIRIGIBLE AT PENSACOLA
LA STATION SAILED AWAY ALONE TODAY.

(Associated Press)

Pensacola, Fla., April 7.—The new $50,000 dirigible air ship which was recently sent to the aviation station here for experimental use in connection with aerial maneuvers, broke from its moorings this morning, fully inflated, but with no one aboard. Mobile, Ala., and other points westward have been notified to be on the lookout for the ship. Aeroplanes are preparing to pursue the craft, which may have been carried out to sea.

CLAIM AGAINST ESTATE ALLOWED

Jury in County Court Gives J. A.
Griese $508.50 Verdict.

In the county court Thursday afternoon a contested claim against the estate of the late J. A. Griese of Ashton, filed by Henry Schnell, for services rendered, was heard. The claim was for $508.50. Most of the afternoon was taken up in the hearing of evidence and the jury returned a verdict for the full amount. Attorney R. R. Scott represented the claimant and Attorneys E. H. Brewster and Harry Edwards appeared for the estate.

CIGAR STORE IS REDECORATED

Stratton & Covert Complete Attractive Improvements.

Stratton & Covert's cigar store and news depot has been handsomely redecorated. The furniture has been refinished and a beautiful reflected lighting system has been installed, making the store one of the most attractive of its kind in this part of the state.

NEW BARBER HERE.

N. B. Allen, who for years was employed on specialty barbering in the Chicago loop, has accepted a position at Wilhelm's barber shop and has moved his family to this city.

I. B. COUNTRYMAN IMPROVING.

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Countryman, who have been living at the Nacabusa Tavern since their return from Florida, expect to go to their home in a few weeks. Mr. Countryman, who has been very ill since his return, is improving daily.

M'CORMICK BOUGHT ESTATE ON THE ROCK

CHICAGO MAN ACQUIRED 1200
ACRES BETWEEN BYRON AND ROCKFORD.

PRICE WAS OVER $100,000

Rockford, Apr. 6.—McNeill McCormick has bought or contracted to purchase 1200 acres of land on Rock river between Rockford and Byron, in Ogle county, including Byron Bluffs, one of the most picturesque points in Rock river valley. Mr. and Mrs. McCormick expect to move to the bluffs about May 1, occupying a temporary bungalow until a beautiful country home is completed.

McCormick farm will have a river frontage of nearly two and a half miles. It includes land on both sides of the stream. Among tracts bought or contracted for are the Flynn and John Burch farms and part of Charles Rood farm. They are just over the south line of Winnebago county in Ogle.

Mr. McCormick said he had in view an extensive dairy establishment. The deals for acquisition of property have been under way for considerable time. No consideration has been given out, but it is understood that more than $100,000 has been paid by Mr. McCormick's agent.

WOODYATT WON TWO BLOCKS OF CONTEST

DIXON BILLIARDIST NOW HAS LEAD OF EIGHTY-NINE POINTS IN MATCH

After defeating Harry Anderson of Kane, Pa., 150 to 135 in the first block of their 600 point pocket billiard contest at the opera house parlors, Chalmers Woodyatt, the Dixon professional, kept up his good work at J. J. Davis's parlors in Sterling Thursday night by defeating the Pennsylvania champion 150 to 76. In the Sterling contest Woodyatt got high runs of 43 and 38, while Anderson's best run was 18. Woodyatt now has a lead of 89 points over his opponent. The third block of the contest will be played in DeKalb this evening and Monday evening at the opera house parlors the two will meet in the final block.

HARDING TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN

Ohio Senator Will Preside at Republican Convention.

(Associated Press)

Chicago, Apr. 7.—The sub-committee of the republican national committee met today to select a temporary chairman for the national convention. "Roosevelt's announcement will have no effect on the selection of a temporary chairman," said Chairman Hilles of the committee. Senator Harding of Ohio was selected as temporary chairman of the convention.

GERMANY WILL MEET DEMANDS HALF WAY

BERLIN IS UNDERSTOOD TO HAVE SO ADMITTED TO AMBAS-SADOR GERARD.

BIG STEAMER SENT TO BOTTOM

Peninsular-Oriental Ship Simla Has Been Sunk in the Mediterranean Sea.

(Associated Press)

It is understood that Germany has intimated to Ambassador Gerard that the kaiser's government is ready to meet the United States' demands more than half way if it develops that the Sussex was torpedoed erroneously.

Penetrate French Line.

Paris reports the Germans penetrated a trench of the first line between Bethincourt and Chattancourt, but that a part of the position was regained by the French.

Big Liner Sunk.

A dispatch to the London Daily Mail says the Peninsular-Oriental steamer Simla has been sunk in the Mediterranean. It is suggested that this ship may be the large transport, belonging to the allies, which was reported in an earlier dispatch to have been sunk off Greece, in which it is believed many lives were lost.

Adopt Report.

Berlin reports that the Reichstag has adopted the committee's report to carry on the submarine warfare. Wilson's cabinet considered the submarine situation but took no action as the situation awaits on Germany's answer to the United States' inquiry concerning the Sussex and other vessels.

Washington, April 7.—With the submarine controversy further complicated by sinking of the British liner Zent and by official reports from London and Paris that the Sussex was torpedoed without warning, President Wilson conferred with Secretary Lansing and Colonel House on the situation.

Secretary Lansing said the conference has strengthened belief in the gravity of the situation. Secretary Lansing was called to the White House and arrived at 2 o'clock, going immediately into the President's reception room. He remained an hour. He would say nothing as to his visit.

House's Visit Secret.

Colonel House remained in the White House all day, and it was not until late in the afternoon that it was discovered that he was there. He left Washington last week for New York, and it was stated that his conference with the President and Secretary Lansing were ended. Since that time the state department has received from Ambassador Page a report of the investigation of the Sussex case, in which it was stated positively, it is said on good authority, that a German submarine fired a torpedo into the side of the vessel. Other evidence to this effect has been furnished by the French and by the British admiralty.

Attache Reports Torpedo.

Reports of the American naval attaches of the embassy there are to the same effect.

British Liner Sunk.

London, April 7.—The Elder Toller Zent has been torpedoed without warning west of Fastnet. Forty-eight members of the crew are missing and are supposed to have been drowned. Two men were killed. Captain Martz and nine of the crew have landed here.

The Zent was built in 1905 and displaced 3,890 tons.

The captain and other survivors all agreed that the ship was torpedoed without warning. The Zent listed badly and began sinking immediately after the torpedo struck.

German Submarine Sunk.

A German submarine has been sunk by a squadron of French and British warships, the ministry of marine at Paris announces. The crew of the submarine were captured.

An unnamed Norwegian steamer has been sunk in the channel with the loss of four lives. Fourteen of the crew were saved.

Neutrals Suffer With Belligerents.

British naval circles express the belief that the retirement of Admiral von Tirpitz from the German ministry of marine was in the nature of a "sop" to American public opinion, as, in their view, the German submarine policy has become "more, instead of less, frightful." The official reports show that seven or eight neutral vessels have been torpedoed without any warning whatsoever since the new German submarine campaign began. These reports state that the following neutral ships have been sunk without warning in the month of March: Norwegian—Silus, Langsle and Kanak. Dutch—Tubania and Palembang. Swedish—Hollandia. Danish—Skoda.

Washington, Apr. 7.—The total production of winter wheat is estimated at 495,000,000 bushels, compared with 655,000,000, the estimated production in 1915.

CLAIMS STATEMENT OF CREDITORS FALSE

E. A. POMEROY, AMBOY, CAUSES
ARREST OF B. F. SCHLOUGH OF STERLING.

PURCHASED STORE FROM HIM

Thursday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Stewart Nettz went to Sterling and brought back B. F. Schlough, against whom a warrant had been issued by Magistrate W. G. Kent charged with uttering and publishing a false statement of creditors and obtaining money under false pretenses. The hearing was continued until Thursday and the defendant furnished a $300 bond to appear at that time.

From what can be learned Mr. Schlough conducted a confectionery store in Amboy and sold out Dec. 5 to Edward A. Pomeroiy, when he gave a list of creditors and amounts alleged due them. In swearing to the list he is charged with having failed to include a creditor of whom he had purchased goods on the installment plan and the firm held Mr. Pomeroiy for the bill, as he had taken over the goods. Mr. Schlough's arrest was caused by Mr. Pomeroiy for publishing a false statement as to his creditors.

MASS MEETING TO CONTINUE LEAGUE

PROMOTERS OF CIVIC LEAGUE
PLAN TO MAKE ORGANIZA-TION PERMANENT

A mass meeting of the citizens of Dixon, both men and women, called by the Dixon Civic League, will be held in the Methodist church on Monday evening, April 10th, 1916, at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of making permanent the organization known as the "Dixon Civic League," under whose direction the Anti saloon campaign was conducted in Dixon, which culminated on last Tuesday in the elimination of the saloons from the city.

In order that our city and county officials may have the necessary and proper support in enforcing the Local Option Law in Dixon, it is absolutely necessary that they receive the united and hearty co-operation of all good citizens.

To that end we urge one and all, no matter how they voted on Tuesday, now that the matter at issue has been definitely settled for at least to unite with us for law enforcement.

Business and professional men, as well as all other persons vitally interested in the prosperity and growth of our city, are particularly requested to be present.

DRESS UP WEEK NEARS END

Tomorrow Is Last Day—Moose Band Will Play On Streets.

The inclement weather has dampened the success of Dress Up Week but in no way has it had the same effect on the determination of the Dixon merchants to go ahead with their original plans, and the week, therefore, will close with a whirlwind finish tomorrow night when all of the business houses will put their best foot forward. The Moose band will play during the afternoon and evening.

SNOW IN IOWA TODAY.

DIXON MILK PLANT MAY BE INVOLVED IN PRODUCERS WAR

IT IS REPORTED CREW OF PICK-ETS FROM CHICAGO DISTRICT ARE COMING.

MAY ARRIVE TOMORROW MORN

Producers, It Is Said, Aid To Strike
Wherever Distributors Have Interests.

It is reported that the possibilities of the war between the Milk Producers' Assn. and the Chicago distributing companies spreading to Dixon and Sterling are very great, an unconfirmed report today being to the effect that a corps of pickets from the Producers' association will arrive here tomorrow to influence the farmers of this vicinity to desist from delivering any milk to the local factory until the strike is settled in the Chicago district.

To Strike Everywhere.

According to the report, which first said the pickets would be on the job here today, and later placed the time of their arrival as Saturday, the Producers, in their efforts to secure the higher prices they ask for milk sold to the distributors in the Chicago district, are preparing to strike everywhere any of the distributing companies have interests, and inasmuch as the Borden company is conducting a distributing business in Chicago, its Dixon and Sterling plants are being considered as fields of operation, although none of the Dixon milk is sent to Chicago.

To Work On Farmers.

In case the report proves true it is expected a score or more of farmer pickets from the vicinity of Elgin will take their stand on the roads leading to the Borden plant early tomorrow morning to intercept those hauling milk to the plant, and will attempt to dissuade farmers from delivering milk to the plant.

The schedule of prices signed are $1.45 for 100 pounds or milk which test 3 1/4 % butter fat. The demand is being made by a number of patrons in eastern Illinois that this is not enough and they are demanding ten cents more per 100 pounds, or $1.55 per 100 pounds.

TWO FIRMS CAPITULATE.

(Associated Press)

Chicago, Apr. 7.—Representatives of the Milk Producers' Assn. and the distributors were called into conference today by Health Commissioner Robertson, who sought an arbitration of the milk strike. Kee & Chappell and the Ira J. Mix Co. have signed the producers' agreement, leaving only the Borden and Bowman companies to fight the strikers. The latter two have applied for an injunction restraining the interference on the part of the strikers with their business. The Mix Co. will raise the price of milk in Chicago one cent a quart.

Chicago, April 7.—In a bill filed by Borden's Condensed Milk company in the United States district court an injunction is asked restraining the members of the Milk Producers' association, 29 South LaSalle street, from interfering with contracts for the delivery of milk and to prevent violence at its plants.

The bill cites that 80 per cent of the milk handled by the Borden company is obtained from 2,420 dairymen, members of the association. They are under contract to deliver 725,000 pounds of milk a day. The Borden company is trying to keep them from breaking the contract, it is asserted.

Acts of violence are alleged to have occurred at the company's plants and stations at Hebron, Menengo, Sutton and Elgin, and the bill asks that members of the Milk Producers' association be restrained from committing any further violence.

Judge Stough this afternoon issued a temporary injunction asked by the Bowman company.

PALMER INTRODUCES A SPECTACULAR SIX TO DIXON

TWO YEARS AGO JEFFERY INTRODUCED THE HIGH-SPEED, LONG-STROKE, HIGH-EFFICIENCY MOTOR TO AMERICA. AND I INTRODUCED IT TO DIXON. I BELIEVED AND SAID THAT IT WAS A SENSATIONAL ADVANCE IN MOTOR CAR CONSTRUCTION—AND FOR TWO YEARS MANUFACTURERS BY THE SCORE HAVE BEEN TUMBLING OVER THEMSELVES TO FOLLOW THE JEFFERY LEAD. NOW, I TELL YOU THAT THE NEW JEFFERY SIX MARKS ANOTHER EQUALLY WONDERFUL ADVANCE. IT IS A WONDERFUL CAR.

I AM GOING TO SELL THIS CAR TO OTHER PEOPLE JUST THE SAME WAY I SOLD IT TO MYSELF. IF YOU ARE IN THE MARKET FOR A SIX THIS YEAR, YOU ARE GOING TO MAKE THE MISTAKE OF YOUR LIFE IF YOU BUY WITHOUT LOOKING INTO THE JEFFERY SIX. I KNOW WHAT I AM TALKING ABOUT.

How I Convinced Myself.

When they told me at the factory what this car would do I wouldn't believe them. Of course I expected it to be an unusually good car—good material—good workmanship—good value. But I did think they were pretty extravagant in their claims.

Now that I have been driving this car for about three weeks, I wonder why the factory men were so CONSERVATIVE in their claims.

I know something about automobiles. I have been driving and selling them for sixteen years. I have driven every car that is worth thinking about—and under all kinds of conditions. But I tell you that I never expected to drive a car like the Jeffery Six. I had some pretty high ideals about cars. The Jeffery Six has more than fulfilled every one of them. I know that this car is as perfect in every way as any car built in America today.

Just to look at this car is a delight. How the designers have succeeded in producing such an unusually beautiful body without resorting to any freakish ideas—I can't quite analyze. But I notice people invariably turn around and comment on it when it passes in the street.

The illustration at the top of the page may give you some sort of an idea, but it doesn't show the roll side body, it doesn't show the generous roomy tonneau with the divided front seats. It doesn't show the auxiliary seats which disappear into the backs of the front seats. It doesn't show the especially designed rear seats upholstered like a club divan.

This Car Has Character.

In short, the Jeffery Six has a character and you can't any more define it than you can define a sunset—you've got to see the car itself and ride in it and drive it before you begin to appreciate it.

Mechanically the Jeffery Six has less parts than any other automobile in its class.

Its construction has been simplified in every way. That's an advantage that other manufacturers seem to be overlooking in their mad endeavor for novelty, but after all it's the simple construction that makes for durability and freedom from trouble.

What This Car Has Done in Dixon.

The first time I took this car out, just as it had come from the factory without being tuned up, I intended to warm it up a little bit and then take it back to the shop to have it pretty well gone over before I attempted to give anybody a demonstration. Frankly, that's the way a dealer has had to do with a new model.

I grew so enthusiastic over the car that I drove it until nearly midnight. The car was such a surprise to me in actual performance that I was actually afraid to rely on my own judgment, so I picked up a bunch of friends to get their ideas. One of them said: "Why, it seems that all that is necessary is to think what you want this car to do and it does it." He pretty nearly hit it.

The motor is so quiet that I almost put the self-starter out of commission one day by throwing it in when the car was standing still, thinking that the motor had stopped—but it hadn't.

Step on the accelerator and you get a new sensation. The car is off like a FLASH.

The brake control is wonderful. I can lock the wheels with the service brake at any speed. The emergency brake on the propeller shaft is a very unusual but European tested feature but so far I have never found occasion to use it except when I am leaving the car on the street.

Power and Speed to Burn.

I don't know how much power this car has. The engine is rated at 50 H. P. but it does more than any other car that I have ever driven up to 70 H. P.; in fact, although I have put it through all sorts of stunts, it has always seemed that there has been a limitless reserve of power at my disposal under all conditions.

The Jeffery Six is not a racing car. It will do sixty miles an hour or better—faster than the average man will ever care to go. But it is this capacity for speed which gives the Jeffery Six such a marvelously quick getaway and such splendid responsiveness. It enables you to get through traffic, to get out of a tight place like a flash, or to pass the car ahead that is giving you its dust.

In every way it is the sweetest handling car a man could imagine. It holds to the road perfectly—its spring suspension and perfect balance not only make for easy driving but for the most sublime comfort that even the most delicate woman could ask for.

I HAVEN'T TOLD HALF THE STORY HERE AND IF YOU THINK I HAVE BEEN OVER-ENTHUSIASTIC, JUST COME AROUND AND DRIVE THE CAR YOURSELF. THE PRICE IS $1450, AND EVERY DOLLAR OF IT REPRESENTS MORE VALUE THAN YOU EVER SAW IN A CAR BEFORE.

MY ALLOTMENT IS LIMITED AND THE FACTORY IS ALREADY OVERSOLD. WE HAVE SOLD A CARLOAD EVERY THREE DAYS SINCE RECEIVING OUR DEMONSTRATOR. I HOPE TO BE ABLE TO FILL THE DEMAND. TO SAY THE LEAST, THERE IS NOTHING TO BE GAINED BY DELAY.

The notice of the Knights and Ladies of Security meeting in Thursday evening's paper should have read "Friday night" instead of "tonight." The meeting for the election of a delegate to the annual convention will be held this evening in Miller hall.

Volunteers Elect

The Volunteers of the Prairieville church met Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Helen Siers of Prairieville and the annual election of officers was held, resulting as follows:

President—Miss Helen Siers
Vice president—Miss Edna Powers

Secretary—Miss Irene Brauer

Corresponding secretary for Dixon—Miss Dorothy Hirleman

Corresponding secretary for Sterling—Miss Velma Newman

The hostess served a dainty collation at the close of a pleasant evening spent in the enjoyment of music and games.

The next meeting will be held Monday with Miss Margaret Martin of Gap Grove.

Don't fail to read the opening chapters of "The Girl and the Game," in Friday's Evening Telegraph, which will be seen at the Princess theatre on Saturday evening. 822

Dorcas Society

The Dorcas society of the Congregational church met in a very pleasant and interesting meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harvey Eggerick on Jackson avenue. The attendance was large and much business to which the session was devoted, was transacted. Later the hostess served delicious refreshments.

For Mrs. Williams

Mrs. John Duffy entertained sixteen ladies Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. J. B. Williams, who is a guest at her home. The affair was in the nature of a miscellaneous shower of handwork, to take the

SOUTHERN DRUG MERCHANT MAKES UNUSUAL STATEMENT

Great Business Losses Due to Neglect

W. WITHERS MILLER

President of the Polk-Miller Drug Company, Richmond, Va., is authority for the following extraordinary statement:

"I estimate that the business men of this country could increase their efficiency fully ten per cent by taking an occasional laxative and not neglecting the bowels as most of them do."

He also said that if the Department of Commerce in Washington would present each business man in the country with a box of Rexall Orderlies, it would be of great benefit to the national welfare. Rexall Orderlies are prompt in action, pleasant to take and never gripe, can be used by men, women or children, and are just the thing for toning up sluggish livers.

"We have the exclusive selling rights for this great laxative."

HEAT FLASHES, DIZZY, NERVOUS

Mrs. Wynn Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her During Change of Life.

Richmond, Va.—"After taking seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new woman. I always had a headache during the Change of Life and was also troubled with other bad feelings common at that time—dizzy spells, nervous feelings, and heat flashes. Now I am in better health than I ever was and recommend your remedies to all my friends."—Mrs. LENA WYNN, 2812 E. O Street, Richmond, Va.

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Such warning symptoms as a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness.

For these abnormal conditions do not fail to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

St. Paul's Aid

The Ladies Aid of St. Paul's Lutheran church met at the church Thursday afternoon with about 20 members present. The meeting was purely a business session and plans were made to aid in paying for certain repairs to be made on the parsonage and to hold a food sale a week from Saturday.

Surprise Mr. Missman

The Inter Nos Circle met with Mrs. George Missman, 611 College avenue Thursday afternoon. In the evening the husbands of the members came as supper guests, as a surprise to Mr. Missman, whose birthday anniversary it was. Covers were laid for 14 and a dainty supper was served by hostess. After the supper a pleasant evening was spent playing five hundred.

A SHORTAGE OF PAPER.

Anyone who applies to a retail paper dealer for supplies of different kinds of paper will find many empty shelves where different grades had formerly been stored, and that stock in all grades is low.

This is due to two causes. The first, which is not the most important, is the car shortage, delaying prompt shipment of paper from the mills, and the second is the shortage of all kinds of raw material out of which paper is made.

There is, in fact, a famine in paper.

The demand in this country has increased, and in addition to this, nearly every country in the world is applying to America for paper.

One of the raw materials used in paper making in which the shortage is most serious, is rags and old paper. Europe is and always has been a great saver of old paper. Old ledgers and account books which have a substantial proportion of rags in their makeup, have been, until recently, steadily flowing over to this country for years. Now there is an English embargo on the export of these and this country must depend upon its own resources.

But we have not, for years, been taught to save old paper and rags. It has not always been so. It is within the half century that the old "rag bag" was in nearly every household and all rags and scraps of cloth were carefully deposited therein to await the weekly call of the ragman, who regularly made the tour of the villages and surrounding country with his horse and wagon and old-fashioned scales. The sale at a cent a pound or more or less, because prices varied in the city centers, was one of the events of the week, sometimes accompanied with much quibbling as to weight or prices.

Those were the days when America was struggling to the front and still bore its share of the world's imposed burden of thrift.

It is estimated by the Department of Commerce that 15,000 tons of different kinds of paper and paper board are manufactured every day in the United States, and much of this if saved, could be used over again in making one or another kind of paper. But a very large part of this is not saved; it is either burned or otherwise wasted and destroyed.

The Department of Commerce has sent out a circular, to be distributed all over the United States concerning the matter, and stating that a little attention to the saving of rags and old papers will mean genuine relief to our paper industry and a diminishing drain upon our sources of supply for new material.

American people have not been taught to be thrifty. The overflowing resources of the country have taught them to be extravagant. Thrift is at the foundation of efficiency and thoroughness. Because of the lack of it our labor, as a whole, is not painstaking, thorough and reliable.

Europe has always been just the opposite to America in the matter of thrift, and now the war, through crushing, relentless necessity, is teaching her to be more so.

Instead, we have here much lower prices for commodities than abroad; large profits are being realized and much larger wages; the laboring classes are spending freely and are getting the worst kind of experience to enable us, when the pinch of peace-competition comes, to hold our own.

The shadow of exaggeration is cast on an ad when the appellation "Perfection" is applied to the product; at least that is our version of it.

So when we tell you of HIGH ART CLOTHES, we will say what is our sincere conviction—that they are as near perfect as modern manufacturing methods, alert designing and fair-play business policy can make them.

Young men will find a host of good-looking models to select from and their seniors will be sure to find their suit made in a model in conformity with their dignity and correct in every detail. Their price is moderate when their value is considered.

Dramatic Notes

PRINCESS THEATRE.

Tonight the wonderful screen production, "Silas Marner" will be shown at the Princess theatre with the noted English actor, Frederick Warde, in the leading role and assisted by an all star cast.

On tomorrow evening the greatest railroad story ever written entitled "The Girl and the Game," will be shown. The story is in 15 chapters the first of which will be shown tomorrow night and on Thursday night of each week thereafter. Read the commencement of this story in tonight's issue.

OPERA HOUSE.

"On Parole" a modern drama of ideas will be the bill at the Dixon opera house tonight. It tells the story of a woman sent to the women's reformatory in this state, of her subsequent release on parole and how she broke parole for the sake of her child. There is an abundance of heart interest in the play and there are some moments of dramatic intensity. Mr. Hickman will furnish all comic relief necessary in the part of Bill Dugan, a strong arm man who reforms and tries to become a respectable man of business. Miss Virginia Stanton will appear as Edith, the character made famous by Miss Barrymore.

Dr. Pankhurst of Grand Detour was here yesterday.

THE GIRL AND THE GAME

A STORY OF MOUNTAIN RAILROAD LIFE

By FRANK H. SPEARMAN

AUTHOR OF "WHISPERING SMITH," "THE MOUNTAIN DIVIDE," "STRATEGY OF GREAT RAILROADS," ETC

NOVELIZED FROM THE MOVING PICTURE PLAY OF THE SAME NAME. PRODUCED BY THE SIGNAL FILM CORPORATION.

CHAPTER I.

In the midmorning quiet, the bathing beach and the ocean reflected only the brightness of the inviting sun. But a little way back from the glistening sand and converging through a small park toward a suburban station the streets of the seaside resort were alive with men and women, hurrying to the city for the grind of the day. Motor cars, too, glided noiselessly along the boulevards, drew up in turn before the station and discharged their passengers. From one of these a middle-aged, military-looking man, General Holmes, an ex-army officer and a railroad man, alighted on the platform. A governess and pretty little girl, Helen—General Holmes' only child—had accompanied her father to the train, and when he turned to the open tonneau to say good-by, Helen sprang impulsively half into his arms. His train pulled in as he quite simply but affectionately kissed his child and boarded the nearest car.

Helen, promised a morning in the park, left the motor car with her governess the moment they crossed a small scenic railroad running back of the beach. She already had her eye on what she wanted to play with. A contented dog, at peace with the world and sunning himself on a grassy slope, had riveted her alert eye; Helen advanced joyously to get acquainted. The dog seemed not averse to a passive friendship, but the little maid, sitting down, sought something more, and by pulling hard and with confidence at his neck, soon had his unpromising head—after a fashion, at least—in her diminutive lap.

The strain on his sensibilities appeared more than her amiable and careless friend could stand. After submitting for a time he rolled over, jumped up and trotted briskly away for a new seclusion and a new peace. Helen, undaunted, sprang to her feet and followed. Her governess, engaged with the chauffeur, saw nothing of this part of the incident. But a moment later the few spectators in the scenic railroad square, waiting to board one of the miniature trains, saw a protesting dog trotting rapidly away from a curly-haired girl, who briskly and relentlessly followed.

A newsboy, relaxing against a convenient lamp post after the morning rush, watched the pursuit for a moment with languid interest, then turned to look at an approaching train on the scenic road. He seemed no more than half awake. His wits, in truth, were wool-gathering. Every morning found him absorbed greatly in the mysteries of the miniature engine that pulled the scenic railroad train.

A shout, then a chorus of cries aroused him from his reverie. The puffing train was pulling swiftly toward the open space. The unhappy dog, casting reproachful glances over his shoulder at his pitiless friend, was galloping uncertainly, but directly down the narrow track toward the oncoming train. Helen, seeing or heeding nothing of the train and fixed only on her chase, ran after at top speed. A dozen people saw her danger as the train rounded the curve just in front of her—only one of them made a move. Dropping his unsold, the day-dreaming newsboy, waking sharply, ran headlong after the heedless girl.

It was none too soon. The dog, dismayed alike by the cries and a second pursuit, sprang, almost in the teeth of the engine pilot, right across the track. Helen fast on his heels was ready to jump after, but it would have been pretty certainly a jump to her death. The newsboy caught her arm and whirled her from the engine just as it shot past with brakes screeching on the drivers. Helen sprawled headlong beside the track, and the boy, unbalanced, rolled on the gravel near her.

He was on his feet in a trice, standing over Helen. She was frightened and breathless, and without speaking he knelt by her. Her eyes began to fill with big tears. She sat confusedly up as her companion brushed the granite dust from her pique skirt and with a coarse handkerchief began wiping the blood from a cut on one of her pink knees. Her rescuer made little of the accident. He told her not to cry. He even brushed the round tears from her cheeks—Helen liked him. "What is your name, little boy?" she faltered in a would-be commanding tone.

"I'm no little boy," returned her rescuer gruffly. A crowd had gathered and he was already red in the face. Helen gave the bystanders no heed. "What are you, then?" she demanded gruffly.

"I'm a big boy. My name is George Storm; I'm named after my father. He was a railroad engineer. My father got killed on a train. Who's your father?"

"Where did that dog go?" quivered Helen, not answering.
"Geel! I didn't see. You pretty near got killed. That dog wasn't any good," declared the boy scornfully. "Some day—" he stopped the blood on her knee once more with his handkerchief, and then added firmly: "I am going to drive a big engine sometime myself, like my father."

A frantic governess, followed by an open-mouthed chauffeur, came running at that moment toward them. The child parted reluctantly from her new-found friend. "Are you going to be a really-truly engineer and smoky up?" she asked.

George faced her unabashed. "You better believe I am."

"I don't care," declared Helen, gulping solemnly while the governess tried to hurry her away, "I won't ever forget you—no matter what you are."

At eighteen, Helen had lost none of the characteristics of her childhood. They were held in deeper reserve, but they were just as persistent. Restrained by convention, she was still adventurous in spirit and her father's one anxiety, old soldier though he was, was that a spirited horse or an ocean undertow would some day be his daughter's undoing. At that, he was forced to admit, the reckless girl could get more out of a horse than he himself could.

Closest among her father's friends, was Amos Rhineland, a New York man of large means, and General Holmes, returning on Helen's eighteenth birthday with Rhineland and Rhineland's nephew—Robert Seagrue, himself a young and ambitious railroad promoter—from a trip of inspection of the tidewater terminals of Holmes' road, was eagerly awaited by his daughter at their country home among the San Pablo foothills. A message sent up to her from Signal, the suburban station of the country seat, had asked her to meet her father that day on No. 20, the through eastern passenger train.

The motor car had gone ahead and Helen, taking Rocket, one of her favorite hunting horses, rode down at her leisure to the station. While far from being a spoiled child, Helen felt very much at home anywhere on the Copper Range and Tidewater railroad. Reared at home, under a discipline almost military, and under teachers held sternly to account for her education by her only living parent, the growing girl had still preserved an innate simplicity—something almost naive—which was reflected in her friendship for the employees, high and low, of the entire Tidewater line, of which her father was president and in which he owned a substantial interest.

On the day that Helen cantered lazily down through the foothills toward Signal, a long west-bound freight train, climbing the grade east of a big hill known on the division as Blackbird pass, found itself in trouble. The air pump, after balking all morning, had quit, and the conductor going forward found the engineer, after repeated efforts with the big machine, helpless. Without losing much time, the conductor rigged up his emergency telephone and asked for instructions from his dispatcher. The answer to his request was curt: "Bring in No. 145 by hand brakes." The crew spread their posts on the decks and the lumbering string of heavily laden cars painfully got under way up the hill. It was a struggle all the way to the summit; then, dropping over the hill, the long string began rapidly to pick up. It picked up, indeed, too rapidly. The crew vainly strove to hold back the unwieldy train. Clubs in hand and with the brakes hard jammed, they saw their monster resistlessly getting away from them. The train crew tumbled forward, for a conference, to the cab. The conductor, comparing watches with the engineer, looked serious—within ten minutes they would be running on No. 20's time; they might even meet her at the bottom of the hill before they reached Signal.

The Air Pump Had Quit.

The conductor acted quickly. Picking up a lump of coal he scratched a message on a white signal flag and wrapped it around a wrench. Cedar Grove station was hardly a mile ahead. As the engine dashed near it the conductor, in the gangway, hurled the message through the office window. Picking it up and hastily reading the rough scrawl, the startled operator wired the tidings instantly to the next station. That station was Signal.

In the bouncing engine cab there were grave faces. "What are you going to do?" shouted the engineer. Without hesitation the conductor cried: "Cut off the caboose and stop it—let the train go!" The engineer agreed: "We've only got one life apiece. No time to lose. George!" he yelled to his fireman, "make for the caboose."

The fireman, perhaps the youngest man in the two crews, without answering, continued to hunt for a wrench. "Wake up, George," shouted the conductor, "come on!"

Searching the tool box, the fireman shook his head. "What do you mean?" demanded the engineer, catching in excitement at his companion's arm, "aren't you coming?"

The fireman did not hurry his answer. "No, I'll stay here," he said, turning simply. He was a stubborn, well-set fellow, really a big, clean-looking boy—with a heavy head of dark hair pushed under his grimy cap and a slow, clear eye matching his deliberate way of speaking.

"Stay here!" thundered the conductor in surprise. "Are you crazy?" He caught the fireman's other arm and with the engineer talked to the obstinate fellow. The two, who liked him, pulled the boy toward the tender. He shook loose. The brakeman joined in the struggle. Again the fireman wrenched away. "That's all right—you fellows go ahead."

"It's suicide for you, man," protested the engineer.

"No, Dan," retorted the fireman. "It's every man for himself," he repeated, backing across the footplate. "I'll stay with the cab."

"Stay and be—hanged," shouted the conductor, with a fiery expletive. "Let him alone, boys," he cried, angrily. "He's dippy. Come!" And with his companions hustling close after, he started over the coal on the tender.

The train had attained a frightful pace. Already glimpses of its long, curving roll on the distant hill might be seen from the window of Signal station, where the disturbed operator had taken the message of the runaway from Cedar Grove and was reading it to Helen Holmes, breathless beside his table.

"AIR BRAKES BROKEN DOWN. RUNNING AWAY. SIDETRACK NO. 20. NO. 145."

It was the import of the last sentence which for an instant froze her senses. Her father! The passenger train facing that runaway on the single track below Signal. More than once she had heard her father declare that the stretch between Signal and the next station, Beaman, must be double-tracked—only, money was so hard to get. If the lack of it should now cost him his life, the lives of perhaps half a hundred others!

While she was thinking, the operator was working furiously at his key with a message for Beaman station. His one hope of avoiding the head-on collision was to catch the passenger train beyond Beaman.

"STOP NO. 20. RUNAWAY ON MAIN LINE."

He told Helen, closely watching the dots and dashes, what he had sent. "I should have an answer in a minute."

It came almost at once. Signal station operator first tried to write it, then threw down his pen and repeated its words unsteadily to the frightened girl.

"NO. 20 LEFT ON TIME. BETWEEN HERE AND THE RIVER."

With wide-open eyes she looked intently toward the mountains. At the moment, the rolling hills now hid the runaway, but the situation was charting itself, like lightning, in her mind. Between where she stood and where the passenger train was coming, the line crossed San Pablo river, a navigable tidewater stream and a waterway that fed a considerable traffic to the railroad. Her father had put across the San Pablo a huge jack-knife drawbridge—the best an honest engineer and an honest railroad directorate could build. Just over the river from Signal station he had already put in, as a start towards double-tracking, a long passing track.

With everything of this speeding like a film through her head, Helen was dashing out of the office when the scream of a whistle signal bore down on her ears. Confused as she was, it meant nothing to her. A chance, a hope, had flashed across her mind and her resolve had been taken—to reach the passing track switch and sidetrack the fatal runaway before it should strike and scatter to destruction the helpless passenger train.

Tetanus from Vaccination.

Peoria, Ill., April 7.—Tetanus, believed to have resulted indirectly from vaccination three weeks ago, caused the death of Hazel Marie Hope, eight years old, daughter of Otto Hope.

Purchase Vermont Bank.

Table Grove, April 7.—Hammond Bailey &amp; Co. have purchased controlling interest in the People's State bank of Vermont.

Auto Accident Victim Dead.

Moline, Ill., April 7.—Albert Root, formerly of Peoria, died here from injuries received in an automobile accident at Elvira.

United States troops stationed along the Mexican frontier have their hands full in preventing Mexicans and sympathizers from running ammunition and other contraband over the border.

FORD'S ELECTION IN MICHIGAN CONCEDED

Auto Man Says Delegates Can Vote as They Please.

Detroit, April 7.—Selection of Henry Ford as the favorite son of Michigan Republicans is conceded. Latest figures from Monday's primary showed the pacifist leading Senator William Alden Smith by 5,000 votes, with only a few small counties and a number of precincts in several other counties still unreported. The vote was: Ford, 59,321; Smith, 53,504.

"As far as I am concerned they may vote as their consciences dictate," Ford said. "They are free to serve the best interests of the country."

Ford's name, it was pointed out, is already entered on the Nebraska primary ticket, where he will run in opposition to Senator Cummings of Iowa. In addition there is still time for the Ford forces to jump into the fight in several other important states where primaries are to be held. This list includes Maryland, California, Texas, New Jersey, Ohio, Montana and Pennsylvania.

DUTCH DEMAND THEIR MAILS
Holland Holds Belligerents Are Not Entitled to Seize Securities.
The Hague, April 7.—Holland has demanded from England the return of valuable securities and documents seized in the mails taken from Dutch ships by vessels of the British navy.

The attitude of the Dutch government is that under no condition are belligerents entitled to seize Dutch papers. It holds that the parcel post is not as inviolate, by the terms of the Hague convention, as the letter post, but believes that in the term "correspondence postale" was undoubtedly included consignments of securities, coupons and other valuable papers.

FEARS ATTACK BY BULGARIA

Roumania Looks With Increasing Gravity to Troops on Frontier.

London, April 7.—A long-delayed Reuter's dispatch from Bucharest says that in view of the undisguised military preparations of Bulgaria on the Roumanian frontier the government of Roumania is taking "necessary military measures."

Premier Bratiano also has prolonged the parliamentary session until the end of April so as to be ready to deal with any Bulgarian surprise which, in the opinion of many, is a possibility.

Allies Protest to Greece.

Paris, April 7.—The entente powers have complained to the Greek government of arbitrary arrests declared to have been made by the Greek police. The reply to the complaint was not conclusive, and a new inquiry will be made.

U-Boats Halt Prisoner Exchange.

London, April 7.—Holland notified Great Britain that it will be unable to undertake the transport of exchanged British and German incapacitated prisoners of war owing to the danger of navigation in the North Sea.

More Neutral Ships Blacklisted.

London, April 7.—The total net tonnage of neutral shipping blacklisted in the latest list reaches 135,000, an increase of 35,000 over the previous announcement. The shortage of tonnage has become more serious.

LOSES CUNARD LINE PLACE
German Blood and Former Employer Cause American's Discharge.

New York, April 7.—Herman F.
Winter, for five years assistant general manager of the Cunard Steamship company in this city, has been forced to withdraw from the company by the British government.
One complaint against him is that his father was a German subject who became a naturalized American citizen twenty years before Mr. Winter was born in Baltimore, Md. He was also for many years employed by the North German Lloyd line. He says, however, though he has always been neutral, his sympathies are pro-aly.

BRITISH AGAIN BEAT TURKS

Felahie, in Mesopotamia, on Way to Kut-el-Amara.
London, April 7.—The town of Felahie, in Mesopotamia, has been captured by the British. It was announced officially. All the positions gained have been consolidated and counter-attacks by the Turks repulsed.
Felahie is in Mesopotamia, below
Kut-el-Amara, where a British force under General Townshend is be-lieged. It has been the scene of several engagements.

Miners Win Strike.
New Kensington, Pa., April 7.—Two thousand miners in the Allegheny and Kiskiminetas valleys, who struck for recognition of their newly formed union, had their demands granted.

THE NEEDLE, GET THE NEEDLE

Offers $5,000 Fountain for Failing to Pay Car Fare.

Danville, Ill., April 7.—Three years ago August Shafelysky, of Copenhagen, Denmark, was in Danville and failed to pay a five-cent fare on a local street car. He returned a day or so ago, and said his conscience pained him and he desired to make reparation. He offered to have built for the city a drinking fountain to cost not more than $5,000.

An investigation is being made to determine whether he has the means to provide the fountain, and whether he is normal mentally.

WOULDN'T HELP, IF HE CRIED

Man, 21, Sentenced Die, Jokes as the Verdict Is Read.

Peoria, Ill., April 7.—Harry King, twenty-one years of age, was found guilty of murdering Policeman Norman Gray and his punishment fixed at death by a jury.

King apparently was unmoved when the verdict was read and continued to smile and joke with those about him.

TRIES TO KILL GIRL, ENDS HER OWN LIFE

Wife of Aurora Farmer Takes Life With Shotgun.

Chicago, April 7.—Insanity added another tragedy to its long roll when discovery was made of the unconscious form of Helen Bores, nine years old, lying on a bed in her farm home, five miles north of Aurora, her head almost crushed in from blows with a club. In another room was found the body of Mrs. Frances Bores, thirty-nine years old, the mother, who lay dead on the floor with a shotgun wound in her breast. At her side was the discharged weapon, also the club with which the child evidently had been beaten. The young girl was taken to St. Charles' hospital at Aurora, where she gained consciousness but could remember nothing of the events.

The sheriff said he believed it was a case of attempted murder of the child on the part of the mother in a sudden fit of insanity, followed by suicide.

His theory is that the mother ended her own life by leaning against the muzzle of the weapon and manipulating the trigger with the club.
